VDI Solution for the city in Kansas

The City of Osawatomie (KS) is part of the Kansas city metropolitan area. Covid-19 had an impact on this local government agency, and the city had to confront challenges like Remote support, Network security, and Work from home (WFH) requirements across the board. The city adapted to the VDI technology that enables all of the end-user computing to run securely from the data center. It also allows employees and staff members to access their virtual systems remotely through any device. The solution helps to reduce operational costs and improve data security along with facilitating remote work.

Agencies can see 40% reduction in remote support costs by moving to VDI

(compare this to supporting physical desktops / laptops/ VPN software / Security / MFA / Infrastructure costs)
